

Waipapa
Taumata Rau
University
of Auckland

STUDY WITH US

 BACHELOR OF EARLY CHILDHOOD STUDIES

BACHELOR OF EDUCATION (TEACHING
ENGLISH TO SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES)

Welcome

Do you want to make an important difference in children's lives? Do you want to empower speakers of other languages to learn English? Then Waipapa Taumata Rau, University of Auckland is for you.

In the Faculty of Arts and Education, we are proud to offer the Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies and the Bachelor of Education (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages).

"Our BECSt programme will support you to become an expert in the pivotal early years of children's lives. Our award-winning lecturers and internationally renowned scholars will present cutting edge knowledge, enabling you to become a leader of change and social responsibility.

Through the BEd(TESOL), you will be exposed to up-to-the-minute, interdisciplinary knowledge and skills. Our courses will give you opportunities to use the latest digital technologies and to put your knowledge into practice through supervised practical experiences in diverse settings.

By studying in these programmes, you will be a student at New Zealand's leading university and part of a faculty ranked in the top 30 universities worldwide for Education. Our programmes will set you apart to pursue careers in teaching and research. Through the BECSt and BEd(TESOL), we will work together to pursue our faculty's mission: Leading learning, changing lives to achieve excellence and equity. We look forward to welcoming you to our community."

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
AARON WILSON
Head of School
Faculty of Arts and Education

Quick facts:

Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies (BECSt)

Length

3 years full-time

Classes start

Semester One (February) and Semester Two (July)

Points per qualification

360 points

Estimated annual tuition fees*

Approx. $7,185.60* (NZD) for domestic students, $38,568* (NZD) for international students (based on full-time enrolment of 120 points).

Delivery:

City Campus

FIND OUT MORE

www.auckland.ac.nz/becst

Bachelor of Education (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) (TESOL)

Length:

3 years full-time

Classes start:

Semester One (February) and Semester Two (July)

Estimated annual tuition fees*:

Approx. $7,185* (NZD) for domestic students, $38,568 (NZD) for international students (based on full-time enrolment of 120 points).

Delivery:

City Campus

FIND OUT MORE

www.auckland.ac.nz/bedtesol

Does not include Student Service Fee*

Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies – BECSt

Encompassing a broad study of early childhood education and social contexts, studying the BECSt will allow you to develop specialist knowledge in the vital early years of children's lives, from birth to eight years old.

Programme Overview

Covering a range of courses, including te ao Māori perspectives, diversity and inclusion, human development, educational psychology, child development and professional communication and practice, you will develop an expert understanding of the complex and vital early years of children's lives.

This is an excellent foundation degree. It will prepare you for a career in a range of educational settings including policy development and leadership roles in New Zealand and overseas.

Highlights

- Study at one of the world's top universities for Education as a subject and apply the knowledge you gain to educational contexts around the world.
- Benefit from courses and teaching expertise that draw on the best international research and practice.
- Practical placements each year in early childhood and other educational settings will allow you to explore areas of interest and refine and develop relevant professional skills.
- Learn about the latest digital teaching tools and how to harness technology to deliver interactive and collaborative learning
- Choose an elective course per year in an area that interests you

International Partnerships

The Faculty of Arts and Education has formed international partnerships with several highly ranked and reputable education providers to support students in their goals to become early childhood professionals in a global context.

New Zealand has a progressive and generous work -rights policy which allows international students to work here for up to three years on a post -study work visa after graduating*.

Taylors University, Malaysia

This partnership with Taylors University allows students studying the Bachelor of Education (Hons) at Taylor's University to transfer either to the Bachelor of Education (TESOL) or the Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies offered at the University of Auckland after just one year.

SEGi College (Subang Jaya), Malaysia

This partnership will support graduates of the Diploma in Early Childhood Education offered at SEGi College Subang Jaya to enter directly into the second year of the University of Auckland's Bachelor Early Childhood Studies degree programme.

Shanghai Normal University, China

Our partnership with Shanghai Normal University will enable Bachelor of Education (Pre -school Education) students at Shanghai Normal University to enter directly into the second year of the Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies programme after just one and a half years.

➞ www.auckland.ac.nz/becst

Conditions apply*

Students may then be required to return to Malaysia/China for their final semester after completing the Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies programme to have their country -of -origin degree conferred.*

Applying as an international student?

Read about entry requirements, how to apply for admission, and documents you may need.

auckland.ac.nz/how-to-apply

"I want to break down the stereotype that women dominate early childhood education. As a Pasifika male, I can bring a unique perspective to the area and be a role model for other people like me who are interested in this career.

"It is a field that requires patience, hard work, and dedication, but it's also a rewarding career that allows you to positively impact the lives of children and their families.

"I was drawn to the University of Auckland because of the range of academic programmes and courses offered and I was really impressed by the university's commitment to providing students with a well-rounded and interdisciplinary education.

"I was also excited about being part of a vibrant and dynamic academic community. Our lecturers and tutors are knowledgeable and passionate about early childhood education and are always willing to help us with any questions or concerns.

"The University of Auckland has helped me grow and develop as a student and a person, and I'm excited to see where this journey takes me."

UASINITONE (UASI) AUVELE

Falealili Sapunaoa and Sa'anapu Safata (Samoa)

STUDENT: BACHELOR OF EARLY CHILDHOOD STUDIES

Where can this programme take you?

Graduates of the Bachelor of Early Childhood Studies programme will understand the interdisciplinary nature of early childhood contexts and be able to critically analyse and respond to issues relevant to a range of organisations and communities. They will be culturally responsive, critical, reflective, and committed to social justice.

Job opportunities

Graduates will have the skills and experience to explore roles in the following areas:

- Health and Community Work
- Education Policy
- Educational Leadership
- Educational Psychology
- Research
- The opportunity for further study to gain a teaching qualification

Scholarships

The University of Auckland has a number of scholarships for international students with strong academic merit.

auckland.ac.nz/is-scholarships

Further Study

This programme provides a strong disciplinary pathway into a graduate teaching qualification or postgraduate research in the field of early childhood studies.

If you decide to pursue a teaching career in New Zealand, you can gain registration by adding a one-year Graduate Diploma in Teaching (Early Childhood Education) or Graduate Diploma in Teaching (Primary). Alternatively, graduates of this programme could also consider a number of different masters programmes at the University, including a Master of Education or Master of Arts.

Bachelor of Education (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages)–BEd(TESOL)

Gain expertise in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages by studying at our world-ranked Faculty of Arts and Education. Here you will have the opportunity to turn your passion for English into language-teaching skills so that your students can participate as global citizens. This programme is suitable for students of any first language. As a minimum requirement, applicants must hold an acceptable University Entrance qualification and be able to provide evidence of their proficiency in English.

Programme Overview

Practical experience is integral to this programme. You will take part in two supervised practical experiences where you will observe TESOL teaching in a range of settings in Auckland, one of the most diverse cities in the world.

You will gain a practical foundation in subjects that inform TESOL education, such as psychology, philosophy, sociology and history, while developing skills in learning, teaching and assessment. This programme will be useful for education leaders and policymakers as well as TESOL teachers.

Highlights

- Study at one of the world's top universities for Education as a subject* and apply the knowledge you gain to educational contexts around the world.
- Benefit from courses and teaching expertise that draw on the best international research and practice.
- Learn about the latest digital teaching tools and how to harness technology to deliver blended interactive and collaborative learning.
- Experience teaching grounded in the Māori concept of "ako", which recognises the knowledge and experience that both teachers and students bring to learning.

International Partnerships

The Faculty of Arts and Education has formed international partnerships with several highly ranked and reputable education providers to support students towards their career goals within the TESOL education space.

New Zealand has a progressive and generous work-rights policy which allows international students to work here for up to three years on a post-study work visa after graduating*.

Partner institutions:

Taiyuan University of Technology (TYUT)
Wuhan University of Technology (WUT)
Zhuhai College of Science and Technology (ZCST)
Shanghai Normal University (SHNU)
Taylor's University (TU)
China University of Geosciences Beijing (CUGB)
Van Lang University (VLU)
Jinan University (JNU)
South China Normal University (SCNU)

➞ www.auckland.ac.nz/tesol

Conditions apply*

Students may then be required to return to China for their final semester after completing the BEd (TESOL) programme to have their country-of-origin degree conferred.*

Applying as an international student?

Read about entry requirements, how to apply for admission, and documents you may need.

www.auckland.ac.nz/international-application

"The programme has prepared me for my future study and career as an English teacher. I can adapt the different methodologies I have learnt to meet the optimal outcomes based on my learners' needs."

"The University of Auckland offered a large amount of support for my studies. As an international undergraduate studying in an unfamiliar country, I benefited a lot, both in my study and my life. When my TESOL group first arrived in Auckland, there were orientations that helped us familiarise ourselves with the country and university campus life."

"I highly recommend this programme to those who plan on a career as English teachers. Courses related to education and children's development have also provided me with deeper insights".

XIAOYING LI

STUDENT: BACHELOR OF EDUCATION (TESOL)

Where can this programme take you?

You will have a robust foundation to teach a range of age groups, from young learners to adults, and adapt your skills to different contexts.

Job opportunities

- Teaching in a language school, international school or university*
- Working on educational programmes with refugees and migrants
- Consulting for community organisations or government agencies
- Community education classes and private tutoring for individual clients
- Educational leadership
- Curriculum, textbook and resource development
- Advising on education policy

Interested in further study?

Through a wide variety of postgraduate study options, you can develop further skills and new knowledge to advance your interests and undertake research.

Other pathways into the programme

Foundation Programme

Our pathway programmes offer the best preparation for bachelor degree study to international and other students whose first language is not English.

www.auckland.ac.nz/foundation

Prior tertiary study

If you have started or completed tertiary study outside of New Zealand and want to study the BEd (TESOL), you can transfer from an overseas tertiary institution. Your overseas qualification(s) must be approved for university admission, and you must also meet the entry requirements and undergraduate English language requirements.

Scholarships

The University of Auckland has a number of scholarships for international students with strong academic merit.

www.auckland.ac.nz/is-scholarships

If you decide to pursue a teaching career in New Zealand, you can gain registration by adding a one-year Graduate Diploma in Teaching*

Support for International Students

Auckland, a great place to live and study! Our main campus is located in the heart of New Zealand's largest, most culturally vibrant and economically significant city. International students can tap into Auckland's energy and opportunity to gain a unique experience. Auckland consistently ranks as one of the most liveable cities in the world, making it an inspiring place for you to start your international student experience.

Why choose New Zealand?

If you want to stand out and succeed, start your story at the University of Auckland. Our university is filled with bright students, doing the most amazing things, who go on to shape the world through their chosen field of study.

New Zealand has a progressive and generous work - rights policy, which allows international students to work here for up to three years on a post - study work visa after graduating.

Embracing all peoples

Kiwis have a reputation for being friendly and welcoming, with a relaxed and open - minded approach to life, which includes showing respect for the rights, beliefs and choices of individuals.

New Zealanders of Māori and Pacific origin make up a large part of Auckland's super diverse population. New Zealand has long welcomed people from many different backgrounds into our communities. We'd love you to join our friendly, diverse student body on campus at the University of Auckland.

Online to on - campus

Join our global student community by studying online until you can join us here in New Zealand.

Excitingly multicultural

As a city with one in three residents born outside of New Zealand, Auckland embraces people from all over the world. It is quintessentially Kiwi but also surprisingly global in its atmosphere and outlook.

International student support staff

We know being away from home is a challenge. To assist you, the University has facilities and extensive support for international students, whatever your background or needs. Our team of international student support staff is available to help you with a range of issues, including immigration, health and wellbeing, financial advice, accommodation and personal support. There is also a 24/7 emergency number available if you urgently need to contact our staff, at any time of the day or night.

➔ www.auckland.ac.nz/international-student-support

POSTAL ADDRESS

International Office
University of Auckland
Private Bag 92019
Auckland 1142
New Zealand

Questions: auckland.ac.nz/student-hubs
Email: studentinfo@auckland.ac.nz
International: +64 9 373 7513

CITY CAMPUS

General Library, Building 109,
5 Alfred Street, Auckland

GRAFTON CAMPUS

Philson Library, Building 503
Level 1, 85 Park Rd, Grafton
(Entry via the Atrium)

SOUTH AUCKLAND CAMPUS

Te Papa Ako o Tai Tonga
6 Osterley Way, Manukau

WHANGĀREI CAMPUS

Te Papa Ako o Tai Tokerau: L Block,
13 Alexander Street,
Whangārei

Waipapa
Taumata Rau
University of Auckland