

LAW 498

Advanced Legal Research, Writing and Communication (0 points)

LAW 498 is a compulsory requirement which every student of the LLB and LLB(Hons) programmes must complete.

1. You enrol in LAW 498 In the final semester of your programme.
2. LLB(hons)Honours students should complete it before enrolling on the dissertation.
3. Complete the course requirements within two semesters after enrolment otherwise you will receive a 'DNC' for the course on your academic transcript.

Note: Summer School does not count in this calculation. Therefore, if you enrol in LAW 498 in semester one of 2020 but do not complete the course requirements by the end of semester one in 2021 then you will get DNC for this course.

Check with your Student Adviser if you are unsure about any of the course requirements for LAW 498.

2020 Course requirements: LAW 498 – Advanced Legal Research, Writing and Communication (0 points)

NOTE: Every reasonable effort is made to ensure the accuracy of information set out in these guidelines, but details are subject to change at the discretion of individual course directors.

You must:

1. pass a moot above Part II.

Any moot that is optional (i.e. not part of course assessment requirements) complies. This includes the General, Family, Employment, Māori Issues and Pacific Issues moots. Some, but not all, competition moots may also qualify.*

AND ALSO

2. complete and pass a single piece of sustained legal writing of at least 4000 words on an elective course.

This can be satisfied in various ways, including:

- LAW 456 Supervised Research
- PILO of at least 4000 words
- LAWGENRL 405 or LAWGENRL 447 report
- Research Essay for a 15 or 30-point LLM course taken as part of your LLB programme
- Honours Seminar Paper
- Honours Dissertation
- Any other single piece of writing of at least 4000 words. Please refer to the schedule below to identify course assessments which comply with LAW 498 requirements

* For a competition moot to qualify for LAW 498 it must be judged, or the judging/marking be moderated, by a member of the (Law Faculty) Academic Staff. Moots organised and/or judged by students, or by practitioners without direct academic oversight will not qualify.

Grading in LAW 498

No letter grades are awarded: LAW 498 is graded with either Completed (CPL) or Did Not Complete (DNC)
