New for 2027

The Bachelor of Psychology (BPsych)

Curious about psychology and how the mind works? We are now offering three undergraduate programmes to meet your academic needs and set you on the right path to success.

Our new Bachelor of Psychology is available to students enrolling in 2027. The programme offers a deep dive into the field of psychology, opening opportunities to pursue diverse and rewarding career and research pathways. This is a great pathway for students whose primary academic focus is psychology. A BPsych equips you with the foundations for clinical training, people-intensive work roles, or a research career.

Undergraduate psychology majors in the BSc and BA

Psychology is a versatile discipline that adds valuable skills to your toolkit, enhancing performance in nearly any industry. Students looking to combine psychology with other interests and want more freedom to tailor their degree should consider completing a psychology major as part of a Bachelor of Science (BSc) or a Bachelor of Arts (BA).

Choose the BSc to embed your psychology major within the sciences, or the BA to pair it with the social sciences and humanities.
