3. The Award may be made to a student enrolled in the first year of a PhD in Marine Science at the University of Auckland, undertaking research relating to sustainability and conservation.
4. The Award may be used to support research expenses, which could include field research located in New Zealand or overseas, or attendance or participation at national or international conferences.
5. The basis of selection will be academic merit measured by the grade point average (GPA) or grade point equivalent (GPE) obtained in the candidate's qualifying programme for doctoral study, the quality and nature of the proposed research and its relevance to sustainability and conservation. Candidates must have a GPA/GPE of 6.00 or above (5.50 for Māori and Pacific candidates) in their qualifying programme to be eligible for award consideration (see Note I).

In all other cases, the GPA/GPE will be calculated over the entirety of the qualifying programme.*
- II. Payments under the terms of this Award remain tax-free as long as they are used directly for the payment of costs associated with an awardee's programme of study. Failure to comply with this regulation will result in the termination of the Award.*
- III. Recipients of a Heather Leaity Memorial Award will be required to give undertakings that they will comply with the regulations for the Award and will notify the Scholarships Office of any change in their enrolment status. The University of Auckland may, in the event that it can be established that a recipient of a Heather Leaity Memorial Award is not complying with these regulations, terminate the Award and require repayment of the funds received.*
