Description

The Judith Binney – Te Tomairangi o Te Aroha Prize in Māori History was established in 2012 by the Department of History, colleagues, friends, students and alumni as a lasting memorial which will honour the work of the late Professor Dame Judith Binney.

This Prize aims to encourage and reward student achievement in, and commitment to, Māori History at the undergraduate level.

Selection process

- Nomination is made to the Scholarships Office
- The Prize is awarded by the University of Auckland Council on the recommendation of the Deputy Head (Academic) of the School of Humanities

Regulations

1. The Prize will be known as the Judith Binney – Te Tomairangi o Te Aroha Prize in Māori History.
2. The Prize will be of the value of $700.
3. The Prize will be awarded annually to the undergraduate student majoring in History, who has achieved the highest mark in courses relating to the study of Māori history, and who has demonstrated the highest level of commitment to the study of Māori History. As a minimum standard, the student must receive an A- grade (see Notes I-II).
4. The Prize will be awarded by the University of Auckland Council on the recommendation of the Deputy Head (Academic) of the School of Humanities.
5. The Prize will not be awarded in a particular year if there is no candidate of sufficient merit.
6. The Prize may not be shared.
7. The University of Auckland Council has the power to amend or vary these regulations in conjunction with the Deputy Head (Academic) of the School of Humanities, provided that there is no departure from the main purpose of the Prize.

8. Notes [I]-[II] below are deemed to be Regulations.

Notes

- I. This will be determined by factors such as the number of courses taken in Māori History at undergraduate level, and the level of contribution to and engagement in classwork.*
- II. Courses relating to the study of Māori History are: HISTORY 104, 107, 111, 227, 260, 327 and 360.*
