Regulations

1. The Prize will be known as the School of Pharmacy Doctoral Publication Excellence Prize.
2. The annual value of the Prize will be $500.
3. The Prize will be awarded annually to the first author of the academic journal article deemed by the selection panel to be the most meritorious doctoral candidate publication of the year. The article must have appeared in an edition of an academic journal between 1 January and 31 December in the year of the award.
4. To be eligible for consideration, the first author of an article must have been enrolled in doctoral study in the School of Pharmacy in the Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences at the time the article was submitted for publication.
5. Nominations will be sought from doctoral supervisors and will be accompanied by a supporting statement from the supervisor which should include evidence of the journal's standing and any citation metrics.
6. Nominations will be assessed in terms of the novelty of the data or research approach, the impact it will have on the field, the candidate's contribution to the paper and the standing of the journal.
7. The Prize will be awarded by the University of Auckland Council on the recommendation of the Head of the School of Pharmacy or nominee) in consultation with a selection panel comprising the Director of Postgraduate Studies in the School of Pharmacy, the Research Director of the School of Pharmacy and three members of the School of Pharmacy Research Committee.

8. The Prize may not be shared.
9. The University of Auckland Council will not be bound to award the Prize in any year if there is no candidate of sufficient merit.
10. The University of Auckland Council has the power to amend or vary these regulations provided that there is no departure from the main purpose of the Prize.
