

ASSESSMENT (COURSEWORK, TESTS AND EXAMINATIONS) PROCEDURES 2023

Application

These procedures apply to all staff members, and students in undergraduate and postgraduate taught courses. Separate policy and guidance documents govern the examination of postgraduate research and doctoral students.

Purpose

The purpose of these procedures is to provide information for staff and students about processes of assessment in undergraduate and postgraduate taught courses.

These procedures should be read with the Assessment \(Coursework, Tests and Examinations\) Policy.

Background

The policy and procedures are underpinned by the University's assessment principles, which outline the University's approach to fair and transparent assessment that contributes to student learning.

The Assessment (Coursework, Tests and Examination) Procedures are reviewed annually by the Provost's Office and Assessment Services and approved by Senate and Council through Education Committee.

PROCEDURES

The role of Course Directors

Notes: specific tasks by role and assessment procedure for undergraduate and postgraduate taught courses are outlined in the Assessment (Coursework, Tests and Examinations) Policy, and further detailed in Appendix 3. Responsibilities for assessment tasks are indicated in the right-hand margin of these procedures

1. A Course Director (and Course Coordinator, where that role is separate from the Course Director) must be appointed for every course. The Course Director is responsible for the design, approval, monitoring and implementation of assessment at the course level. A Course Director may delegate some responsibilities to a Course Coordinator.
 Note: a Course Director must be able to demonstrate to their Academic Head that they are research-informed.
 Teaching Assistants, Graduate Teaching Assistants and Tutors are not eligible to be appointed as a Course Director.

Course Director
2. Course Directors must be nominated and appointed through the Nominees Report available in Student Services Online (SSO), which is approved by the Academic Head and submitted to the Assessment Services.
 Academic Heads must take into consideration the teaching experience of any nominees for the role and ensure that they are research-informed.

Academic Head

Assessment design

Programme-level assessment design

3. Across courses and within the programme, the overall design of assessment must provide opportunities for students to attain all programme capabilities.
 Note: in programmes where students may choose multiple pathways for progression, faculties have discretion to determine the ways in which assessment design across the programme is as holistic as possible.
4. When new programmes, majors or specialisations are put forward for consideration by the Committee on University Academic Programmes (CUAP), Academic Programmes Committee (APC) must receive information on how planned assessment will meet programme graduate capabilities.

Proposing faculty

5. Where possible, the timing of assessment tasks within a programme must take into account the requirements of other courses to ensure assessment is not 'bunched'.

Course-level assessment design

6. Assessment design for new courses is undertaken by academic staff at the level of the academic unit or programme, and approval is a faculty responsibility. Where assessment in new courses is proposed, faculty processes must ascertain that it is appropriate, sustainable, and academically sound and that it aligns with the provisions of this policy. Associate Dean (Academic)
7. Coursework must be allocated a percentage of marks awarded for the course, the remainder being allocated to tests and the written examination. These allocations are the responsibility of Course Directors. Course Director
Note: See Policy s.21
8. To ensure coherence and alignment of assessment with learning objectives, Course Directors are responsible for ensuring that: Course Director
- assessment is designed and implemented in the context of the whole course and its learning objectives
 - end-of-course reviews include an evaluation of assessment tasks and outcomes across the course.
9. Course Directors are responsible for ensuring that where group assessment forms part of a course: Course Director
- the design of the assessment, including the size of working groups, the mark composition, and assessment criteria must be determined by the learning objectives of the material involved.
- Note: see Policy s.18
- students must be clearly informed of what is expected of them in a group task, and exactly what is being assessed.
10. Course Directors must ensure that courses do not allocate weighted items of assessment for attendance (as distinct from participation). Where marks are awarded for participation there must be a clear description of the criteria against which performance will be measured. Course Director
11. Course Directors must ensure that where question banks are maintained for assessment tasks they are of sufficient size to allow the appropriate re-design and cycling of questions. The problems set will be designed to test higher-order thinking skills. Course Director

		Role responsible
12.	Course Directors are responsible for maintaining appropriate assessments for concurrently taught courses. Note: faculties must submit a three-yearly report to Academic Programmes Committee to attest that courses taught concurrently are assessed separately, with different assignments, tests and examinations set for each level using methods and standards appropriate to the level of enrolment. See Concurrent Teaching Policy	Course Director
13.	Associate Deans (Learning and Teaching) are responsible for approving the use of plussage as appropriate to the structure of course assessment and the learning outcomes to which they relate.	Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching)
14.	Requests for exceptions to the following policy requirements will be made to the faculty Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. approval for a plussage arrangement that allows less than 30% of the final grade to be derived from coursework (see Policy, s.21) b. approval for tests with a weighting higher than 20%, including take-home tests, to be conducted in the final week of teaching (see Policy, s.22). Note: In each case applicants must make the case for exemption based on the specific academic circumstances of the course and must ensure approval is granted before the deadline for submission of assessment information in Course View	Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching)
15.	Requests for exceptions to the following policy requirements will be made to Education Committee: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. approval to have the component assessing individual contribution worth less than 40% of a group work assessment (where that group work assessment has a weighting of higher than 30% of the final grade) (see Policy, s.18). b. approval to have the component assessing individual contribution worth less than 40% of a group work assessment (where that group work assessment has a weighting of higher than 30% of the final grade) (see Policy, s.18). Note: In each case applicants must make the case for exemption based on the specific academic circumstances of the course and must ensure approval is granted before the deadline for submission of assessment information in Course View.	Course Director Education Committee

Assessment approval and information

16.	Digital Course Outlines (DCOs) contain summary information on assessments for each course, including assessment type, weighting, and alignment with course learning outcomes. DCOs are approved by Academic Heads and published by Associate Deans (Learning and Teaching).	Course Director Academic Head Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching)
17.	Examination details (including examination mode and duration, plussage arrangements, calculator and/or book restrictions if applicable, and any special timetabling requests) are approved by the Academic Head and submitted through the online Course View application by the published	Course Director Examiners Academic Head (or delegate)

deadline. Changes made to assessment details after submission must be approved by the Academic Head (or delegate) and re-submitted via Course View.

Appointment of Examiners, Assessors and Moderators in undergraduate or postgraduate taught courses

18. Each course must be examined by more than one member of staff, or examined by one member of staff and assessed by another. An Academic Head may in exceptional cases, vary this requirement.

Examiners

Academic Head

19. Examiners and Assessors are appointed through the Nominees Report available in SSO which must be approved by the Academic Head and submitted to Assessment Services. Examiners and Assessors appointed from within the university system are not paid a fee.

Academic Head

Note: PTFs and Senior Tutors appointed as examiners or assessors must teach the course in collaboration with a research-active academic (see s 1).

20. Changes in nominations of Course Director, Examiner or Assessor must be advised to Assessment Services on the AS-44 Changes to Nominations Form and approved by the Academic Head.

Academic Head

Management of assessment

Feedback to students

Note: see Assessment (Coursework, Tests and Examinations) Policy.

21. Feedback/feedforward to students on coursework may vary in method, but must address performance against the learning objectives and criteria set for the assessment task.

Course Director

22. Course Directors must ensure that students receive feedback/feedforward on an early assessment exercise in time to assist students to prepare for their first substantive assessment.

Course Director

23. The University does not provide feedback to students, other than a grade, on performance in examinations.

24. The University does not provide in all cases individual feedback on written tests. Students will receive generic feedback on class performance in a test.

Advice to students

Role responsible

- Turnitin
 - digital assessment (where relevant).
33. Students must be advised to retain their coursework after it has been returned to them in case it later needs to be made available to the Course Director before the final result for the course has been determined (unless a copy is retained by the faculty). Course Director
34. Individual examination dates and examination locations must be available to students on SSO. Examination Instructions will be available online to every student before each examination period. Assessment Services

36. Unless an exemption is approved past examination papers must be made available on the Library and Learning Services Examinations Database. Exemption requests are made to the Provost or delegate, through Assessment Services. Provost or delegate

Coursework and tests

37. When coursework and tests contribute to a percentage of the final results, towards which a written examination also contributes, the Examiner may at their discretion make sure coursework and tests are available to the Assessor of the written examination. Examiner
38. If coursework (or coursework and tests) contribute 100 percent to the final result and there is no final examination, coursework must be available to the Assessor, either in full or in such proportion as will permit effective assessment. Assessor

Format

39. For ease of marking and submission to plagiarism detection software, students are expected to present written assignments in a digital format, except where the nature of the assessment task or discipline requires an alternative format. Students are responsible for ensuring that the required digital format is used for submission.

40. In cases where a student submits an assessment digitally for marking, in the required format, and the file is then found to be corrupted or otherwise inaccessible or unrecoverable the student must be given an opportunity to resubmit the assessment without penalty.

Tests

41. Tests which count toward the final result for a course are not required to be conducted under invigilated conditions. The use of in-person or digital invigilation for tests will be determined by the Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching) or delegate.

Course Director

42. Students with a permanent or temporary impairment affecting their ability to sit tests under normal conditions can apply to sit under special conditions, e.g., extra time, a writer, special equipment, separate room. Note: see Special Conditions for Written Tests and Examinations Policy

43. Illness or misfortune affecting tests is covered by the regulations governing aegrotat and compassionate consideration. Other circumstances, such as sporting or work commitments, that prevent a student from sitting a written test at the scheduled time are not covered by these regulations. Academic Heads may take these circumstances into account and can be guided by the criteria used for approving out-of-time and out-of-centre examinations in making a decision.

Academic Head

Note: see s.166-174 for further information on aegrotat and compassionate consideration for tests.

Marking assessment items

44. Coursework assessment and tests must be marked against the standards and criteria set for the assessment task.

Examiners / markers

45. Marks awarded must align with the University grade descriptors.

Examiners / markers

46. Adjustment of marks may be undertaken where it is evident that the assessment criteria and standards have not been consistently applied in an individual assessment task.

47. Students affected must be advised as to the rationale for adjustment of marks. Records must be kept within the academic unit and the Associate Dean (Learning and Teaching) will submit a brief report to Education Committee on these instances at the February and September meetings.

*Academic Head

Academic Head

Storage and retention of coursework

51. Academic units must have processes to ensure secure storage of assessment questions, coursework and records.
52. Academic units must retain student coursework and tests until the nominated period for collection of work, or resolution of disputed marks, has elapsed. This period should be determined by the faculty and made clear to students.

Examinations in undergraduate or postgraduate taught courses

Requirement to sit an examination

53. In order to pass a course, a student must have completed to the satisfaction of the Examiners any prescribed examination unless eligible for aegrotat or compassionate consideration.

Examination period

54. The University examination period for semesters covers three weeks:
- Week 1 – a short week from the first day of exams (Thursday) to the first Saturday
 - Week 2 – from Monday to the second Saturday
 - Week 3 – from the following Monday to the next Monday, excluding Sunday.

Examination format and conduct

- questions are not known by the students in advance of the examination
 - students are not permitted to bring any material into the examination (closed book).
56. Lecturers may announce during teaching the apportionment of the questions in the final examination in relation to the material covered in the course. Where examination questions are announced in advance, all or in part, this must be approved by the Course Director.
57. Teaching staff must ensure that where the apportionment of questions, or the questions themselves, are announced in advance that this information is published to students through a notice on Canvas or through email communication. Once this announcement has been made, the examination must be conducted in the notified format.
58. The published duration of an examination, as well as calculator or book designation, may only be changed with approval of the Academic Head. Changes must be submitted to the Assessment Services Course View.

Examiners

Book designation of examinations

66. Unless otherwise specified, examinations will be Closed Book (CB). That is, no written material may be brought into the examination location.
67. The designation for Restricted, Open and Supplied Book examinations must be approved by the Course Director. See Appendix 1.

Course Director

Calculator designation of examinations

See Appendix 2.

Special examination conditions

68. A student who is permanently or temporarily disabled in a manner which affects their ability to undertake examinations under the prescribed examination conditions may, upon production of the appropriate evidence, obtain from University Health and Counselling Services or Inclusive Learning, a recommendation which will enable that student to be examined under conditions which take account of the particular impairment.
69. Student applications for the approval of on-going special conditions for a permanent impairment must be made no later than the end of the sixth week following the commencement of lectures. Applications for temporary conditions must be made as soon as possible.

Out-of-time and out-of-centre examinations

70. All students must sit examinations at the time and location specified unless an out-of-time or out-of-centre examination is approved.
71. Faculty or academic unit staff must not give specific advice to students about sitting examinations out of time or out of centre. Students must be referred to Assessment Services for advice.
72. Out-of-time examinations are normally sat 24 to 48 hours prior to the scheduled exam date. Students make a statutory declaration that they will not communicate with other students sitting the same exam at a different time. Examiners may write an alternative exam paper.

Examiner*

Music performance examinations

Undergraduate

73. All students must be examined by a panel of two, consisting of:
- A member of the School of Music staff, normally the Academic Head or nominee, who shall act as a moderator for all examinations within any one semester. Where the number of students is high, it may be necessary to divide one semester's examination entry into two groups and to appoint two moderators
 - Another member of the School of Music staff, or if necessary or appropriate, an external Examiner of recognised standing in the instrument.
74. The teacher must be in attendance to act as adviser to the Examiners but will not participate in the decision-making process.
75. Part 1 and 2 performance examinations are not open to the public. Part 3 performance examinations must be held as public recitals.

Postgraduate

76. All students must be examined by a panel of two, consisting of:
- a member of the School of Music staff, normally the Academic Head or nominee, who shall act as a moderator for all examinations within any one semester. Where the number of students is high, it may be necessary to divide one semester's examination entry into two groups and to appoint two moderators
 - a specialist in the instrumental or vocal area being examined from within the School, or from outside where necessary. This must not be the teacher of the candidate.
77. Performance examinations for all postgraduate degrees must be held as public recitals.
78. All postgraduate recitals must be video-recorded for assessment by an external Assessor with broad experience in tertiary performance examining.

Marking and assessing written examinations

Collection of Scripts

79. Hand-written examination scripts (with the exception of students sitting under alternative arrangements) will normally be available for collection

Examiners

Role responsible

from the Examinations Centre half an hour after the completion of the examination.

80. Examiners of evening examinations must contact Assessment Services if they intend to collect scripts after the evening sessions; otherwise they must collect them the following day. Examiners

81. Staff collecting hand-written scripts must present their University of Auckland staff ID card. Examiners must notify Assessment Services in writing of an alternative staff member collecting scripts on their behalf. Examiners

Marking examination scripts

82. Strict security must be maintained in the handling and storage of hand-written and digital examination scripts.

83. Markers for hand-written scripts must tick or otherwise indicate that they have read each question, and the final mark for each question must appear on the script and/or at the front of the script book. Comments on the script must not provide advice or feedback to students and must be limited to non-confidential aide-memoires for the Examiner(s). Markers

84. Interim marks and evaluative interchanges with other Examiners or Assessors taking place before the final mark is settled must be held in confidence. Interim marks or other information should not be recorded on the script. Examiners
Assessors

85. Hand-written or digital scripts are available to students on application to Assessment Services. Assessment Services

Illegibility of hand-written scripts

86. Candidates will be warned that where a hand-written examination script is illegible, the Examiner may award marks for only such parts of the script as are legible and may leave the illegible parts unmarked. Every effort must be made to complete the marking of a script; any parts that are unmarked because of illegibility must be clearly identified on the script by the Examiner. Assessment Services
Examiner
87. Academic Heads may invite a candidate to attend the University to read an illegible script to an Examiner. In such cases a second member of the academic staff must be present throughout the proceedings. Academic Head

Missing scripts

88. Where a student's hand written script, or parts of a script, have been misplaced prior to marking, the examiner must immediately inform Assessment Services. Examiner
89. In cases where a digital examination file or part of a file is submitted for marking and is then found to be corrupted or otherwise inaccessible or unrecoverable, the Examiner must immediately inform Assessment Services.
90. Assessment Services
- If all or parts of the missing script or file are unable to be located or accessed, the student will be offered the opportunity to re-sit the missing examination components, or to have their grade assessed based on available coursework and examination marks through the AS-61 Assessed Grade process.

Moderation and adjustment of marks in undergraduate or postgraduate taught courses

91. Academic units must have documented processes in place to ensure the appropriate moderation and approval of results, before finalisation of marks and grades. This may include: Academic Head
- the use of marking guides
 - reviewing a sample of work
 - reviewing borderline results
 - statistical analysis.

Final marks and grades

92. Assessment in the University is criterion-referenced, therefore it is not expected that faculties conform to a specific grade distribution. Faculties may monitor the distribution of grades with regard to factors such as past performance and the size and selectivity of particular cohorts. Associate Dean (Academic)
93. Final results will be expressed as a letter grade, with a corresponding numerical mark, as outlined in Table A.
94. There are ten pass grades, and three fail grades. A pass mark is 50% or more.

95. Use of a 0.5 rounding scheme is considered standard practice and must be applied consistently within programmes.
96. Final marks on grade or pass/fail boundaries may be reviewed by the Examiners on a case-by-case basis.

Table A: University grade descriptors for undergraduate and postgraduate taught courses

DNC (Did Not Complete)	DNC must be entered in the following circumstances: where a student has gained more than 50 percent in a course but has not completed the approved compulsory coursework; where a student has gained less than 50 percent in an internally assessed course because of the failure to complete coursework but the entry of a final grade would inappropriately represent the reasons for failure or the level of achievement

Ungraded pass / fail results

97. After application to Education Committee, a course may be approved to carry an ungraded pass/fail result provided it meets the following criteria:

- the course involves a substantial amount of practical work (a minimum of 60 percent). The work will usually be carried out over a period of time in which the student is expected to acquire knowledge, understanding and skills to a required standard. A fail indicates that the student's performance is below the minimum level of competence.

or

- the course is a required part of a programme but carries no points.

Note: ungraded passes do not carry a grade point and are not included in Grade Point Average calculations.

Postgraduate qualifications: Honours, Distinction, Merit

98. There is a consistent standard for the award of Honours in postgraduate Bachelors Honours and Masters degrees, and Distinction and Merit in Postgraduate Diplomas, and in Masters degrees that do not have a research component of 30 points or above:

Examiner

- First Class Honours: GPA of 7.0 or above
- Second Class Honours (first division): GPA of 5.5 – 6.9
- Second Class Honours (second division): GPA of 4.0 – 5.4
- Third Class Honours: GPA of 1.0 – 3.9 (Postgraduate Bachelors Honours degrees only)
- Distinction: GPA of 7.0 or above
- Merit: GPA of 5.5 – 6.9.

Note: a GPA includes a decimal place only when more than one course is involved. A 120 point programme comprised of a 120 point thesis or research portfolio only ever carries a whole GPA numerical. A 'B+' result (GPA of 6) in a 120 point thesis or research portfolio is, therefore, required for the award of Second Class Honours (first division) in a 120 point degree. Second Class Honours (first division) cannot be awarded for a 'B' result (GPA of 5).

for late submission for a period of up to one year after the last day of the semester in which the student was enrolled or the last day of an approved and enrolled extension. The application must state the circumstances and specify the date by which the result will be submitted.

107. Applications will be approved by Assessment Services if the result is unable to be submitted for the following reasons: Assessment Services
- Illness or other incapacity of an examiner or assessor
 - Dispute over the result.
108. Applications falling outside of these criteria will be submitted to the Provost or delegate for consideration. Provost or delegate

111. Only results returned to students in Student Services Online are official. All marks or grades in Canvas are considered unofficial and may still be subject to review.

Signing and approving results

112. Final grades must be reviewed by the Examiner(s) and Assessor and the grades locked in Canvas. Final grades will be approved by the Course Director by email to results@auckland.ac.nz. The Course Director and Examiner(s) are confirming that the grades are accurate and have been submitted on time. The Assessor, where appointed, is confirming that appropriate and adequate academic standards are maintained. *Course Director

 - late timing of practicums/practical examinations
 - illness or other incapacity of an Examiner or Assessor
 - an approved extension awarded to the student for the submission of coursework
 - study abroad courses
 - a paper with more than 250 students scheduled in the last three days of the examination period.

Dispute with the Academic Head

128. An Academic Head may, in pursuit of their duty of maintaining standards, review examination scripts and results. If the Academic Head sees reason to object, the matter should be discussed with the Examiner(s) and Assessor(s).
129. If no agreement is reached, the Academic Head shall call for written reports from the Examiner(s) and Assessor(s), and shall state in writing their own grounds for objection. Recount of marks

138. Any student may have the marks awarded for their examination script recounted. Application must be made no later than seven weeks after the last day of the examination period.

Note: the fee for such a recount shall be as prescribed in the Fees Regulations.

139. A recount of marks must involve a careful rechecking of the marks recorded by the Examiner, and confirmation that no answer or any part of an answer submitted by a student has been overlooked. Recounts must always include a careful checking of the accuracy and inclusion of coursework marks. The Examiner will not be advised of an application for a recount of marks.

Examiner

140. Students may apply for a recount of marks for written examination papers only.

Aegrotat and compassionate consideration for examinations

Note: Regulations govern aegrotat and compassionate consideration, these procedures should be read in conjunction with those regulations.

Scope

141. Aegrotat and compassionate consideration examination regulations apply to work which counts towards the final result for a course and is performed under examination conditions at a specified place and time, with the exception of performance examinations.

142. The categories to be considered are:

- Final written examinations
- Formal practical or oral examinations
- Final submissions in the practical and studio work in the Faculty of Creative Arts and Industries
- Tests.

Advice to students

143. Students must be advised to enquire about aegrotat or compassionate consideration if temporary illness or injury, or exceptional circumstances beyond their control, have prevented them from sitting an examination, or seriously impaired their examination preparation or their examination performance. Students may contact Assessment Services or the University Health and Counselling Services or go to the Examinations website for advice. The requirements are stringent, and it is essential that students follow the correct procedures which are fully explained on the forms and in the Examination Instructions available online to every candidate before each examination period.

Sitting examinations

144. Students should be encouraged to sit examinations if possible. Medical or other evidence must establish that a student is physically or mentally incapable of sitting an examination. It is not sufficient for the student to be unwell or to be faced with trying circumstances. Even if a student is advised by their lecturer or doctor not to sit, the University's medical or counselling advisers will not approve a DNS unless justified by the evidence.

145. Students with a permanent or temporary impairment affecting their ability to sit examinations under normal conditions can apply to sit under special conditions, e.g., extra time, a writer, special equipment, separate room.

Note: see Special Conditions for Written Tests and Examinations Policy.

Method of application

Aegrotat consideration (temporary illness or injury)

146. Students must complete the online application and provide a statement outlining how their temporary illness or injury have either prevented them from taking the examination or impacted their performance and/or preparation for the examination. The student must provide evidence in support of their application where evidence can reasonably be obtained. Whether evidence can be reasonably obtained is assessed by staff from Assessment Services.

Compassionate consideration (other exceptional circumstances)

147. Students must complete the online application and provide a statement outlining how their circumstances have either prevented them from taking the examination or impacted their performance and/or preparation for the examination. The student must provide evidence in support of their application where evidence can reasonably be obtained. Whether evidence can be reasonably obtained is assessed by staff from Assessment Services.

Application deadlines

148. An application must be submitted online no later than one week after the examination. If more than one examination is affected, the closing date is one week after the last examination affected. Students must not wait for their examination results before submitting their application.

Processing applications

149. Applications will be assessed by Campus Care, Assessment Services and/or medical or counselling advisers to the University who consider the student's statement and evidence and agree it supports the application. Further evidence may be requested from the student if it can be reasonably obtained. Whether evidence can be reasonably obtained is assessed by staff from Assessment Services.

Assessment Services

150. If the evidence is in order, the appropriate Course Director is requested to make an academic assessment and determine whether an aegrotat or compassionate consideration grade will be applied. Where the medical or compassionate evidence does not support the application, an academic assessment and determination is not requested.

Course Director

151. The Course Director must make their determination based on the criteria for aegrotat and compassionate grades set out on the form, based on the coursework, test and examination marks (if applicable), and when necessary, the student's performance in other courses, especially those in the same degree. The options include no change of grade or that the student complete an alternative assessment.

Course Director

152. Academic recommendation forms are confidential and details must not be given to students. They must be completed and returned to Assessment Services by the published deadline.

153. Grades recommended as a result of an application should not be submitted in the normal return of results process.

154. Forms should be returned to Assessment Services as soon as possible, within a week of receipt.

Academic requirements for aegrotat and compassionate grades

155. Deadline dates for return of aegrotat recommendations are as published.

156. When determining an aegrotat or compassionate grade, the Course Director must be able to certify that:

- the student's coursework in the course or performance in a test meets the minimum pass standard

And

- for a student who sat the examination, the mark attained in the examination was lower than expected by taking into account the student's coursework or test scores in the course

And

- the student is worthy of a pass in the course

157. Instead of determining an aegrotat or compassionate grade, the Course Director may determine that the student must take another examination which may be in the same form as the original exam or may differ, including oral or written. Exceptional circumstances must apply, and these should be specified by the Course Director when outlining the reasons behind the determination.

Course Director

158. removed

159. No more than one third of the total point value credited to a degree or diploma may be awarded with an aegrotat or compassionate grade.

Notification of outcome

160. Students will be advised in writing of the result of their application in all cases, whether or not an aegrotat or compassionate grade is approved.

161. removed

162. removed

Reconsideration of applications

163. To apply for reconsideration a candidate must make an application in writing to the Director, Student and Academic Services following the decision of the Senate. See Examination Regulations.

Director, Academic Services

Tests

164. A modified version of the examination procedures for aegrotat and compassionate consideration applies to tests which count towards the final result for a course.
165. Students who have been prevented from sitting a test or who consider that their preparation for or performance in a test has been seriously impaired, by temporary illness or injury or exceptional circumstances beyond their control, must contact Assessment Services, the University Health and Counselling Services or see the Examinations website for the online application process.
166. Students should be encouraged to sit the test if possible. The student's application must make it clear that the student was unable to attend or the test performance was seriously impaired.
167. Students must submit the application form and evidence within seven days after the date of the test. A late application may be accepted if exceptional circumstances beyond the student's control prevented them from submitting the application by the due date.
168. Applications are assessed by Campus Care, Assessment Services and/or medical or counselling advisers to the University who consider the student's statement and evidence to determine that it meets the requirements.
169. If the evidence is not in order, Assessment Services will notify the student, and send a copy of the letter to the appropriate Academic Head.
170. If the evidence is in order, the application form is sent to the appropriate Academic Head. This does not include the assessed medical or other evidence, which is held by the University Health and Counselling Services.
171. The Academic Head considers the application by taking into account the medical and counselling advisers' assessment of the evidence and then approves one of the options set out on the form. These options are or specified in the Examination Regulations as permission to:
- sit another written or computer-based test

- receive a mark for the test based on the average of marks awarded for other tests or exams
- or
- take a viva voce test

or

- have the percentage of marks allocated to the test reallocated to the examination.

172. The options on the form include no change, which may be appropriate for a student who sits the test but obtains a mark in line with other comparable assessment.

173. The student must be advised of the decision within 21 days of the test.

Deferred examinations (clinical and performance)

174. Students undertaking performance and clinical examinations who, because of temporary illness or injury or exceptional circumstances beyond their control, are unable to sit their examination on the date scheduled, may apply to the Academic Head or programme coordinator for deferment of that examination. The grounds for claiming illness, injury or exceptional circumstances should correspond with those used for aegrotat provisions set out under the Examination Regulations and should include where appropriate evidence from University Health and Counselling Services.

Academic Head

Programme Coordinator

175. The Academic Head or Programme Director may grant a deferment until the Friday of the first week of teaching in the following semester. In exceptional circumstances, approval may be given by the Dean on recommendation from the Academic Head or Programme Director, to extend this period. If, at this time, the student is unable to undertake the examination, a fail grade of 'Did Not Complete' (DNC) must be recorded

Academic Head

Programme Director

Availability of examination scripts

176. By making application during the three months after the end of the examination period for the examination, a candidate may obtain a copy of their examination script. Applications must be made online and a copy sent by email to the student.

177. If it is found that a question or section has not been marked, or there are other errors of a similar nature, the Academic Head should notify Assessment Services of the amended grade stating the reason for the change. The student will then be advised by email of their amended results.

Academic Head

Academic Head

Students are not permitted to seek a remarking of the script. If it has been fully marked, the Examiner's judgement must stand. If a student seeks advice in respect of the script, that advice must not cover detailed discussion with the Examiners of particular answers. Broad guidance may, however, be given on the general thrust of the script or on examination technique by the Academic Head or by an Examiner specified by the Academic Head.

Storage and disposal of examination material

179. Examiners must keep hand-written examinations scripts only for the minimum time required for marking. They must then hand the scripts over to the department/faculty to arrange secure storage until at least four months after the examinations. After that time hand-written examination scripts are destroyed. Examiners
180. In the case of examinations in Fine Arts, Testimonials of Study need not be so preserved.
181. Masters examination scripts must be retained until six months after the assessment has been completed for any thesis, dissertation, or research portfolio or project required. Examiners

Breaches of academic integrity

182. All instances where there is evidence of a breach of academic integrity in undergraduate or taught postgraduate coursework, tests or an examination must be dealt with under the provisions of the Student Academic Conduct Statute.
183. All confirmed instances of academic misconduct are recorded on the University's Register of Academic Misconduct.
184. A student's assessed work may be reviewed against electronic source material using electronic detection software.

Disputes and complaints procedures

185. Students have the right to query an assessment process in coursework or test that they believe to be unfair. See Resolution of Student Academic Complaints and Disputes Statute.

Quality assurance of assessment

186. Assessment is quality assured through processes at the course, academic unit, faculty and university level:

Definitions

The following definitions apply to this Procedures document:

Academic misconduct means minor or major academic misconduct in coursework, tests, or postgraduate examinations. Academic misconduct also includes confirmed incidents of dishonest behaviour in examinations.

Apportionment with respect to written examination papers means the distribution of questions on different topics to different sections of the paper and their weighting in marks.

Assessment means the ongoing process of: establishing clear, measurable expected outcomes of student learning; ensuring that students have sufficient opportunities to achieve those outcomes; systematically gathering, analysing and interpreting evidence to determine how well student learning matches outcomes or expectations; using the resulting information to understand and improve student learning.

For the purposes of these Procedures, assessment includes:

- assignments during the teaching of a course, normally called coursework
- practical, aural and oral work
- written tests conducted under examination conditions
- ongoing assessment of competence or performance
- written (or performance) examination normally conducted at the end of the semester or year
- by dissertation, thesis or other research projects.

Assessment Principles means the principles set out in the Assessment of Student Learning Policy:

1. Assessment is learning-oriented through tasks which require the understanding, analysis, synthesis and/or creation of new information, concepts, and/or creative works.
2. Assessment design is coherent and supports learning progression within courses and across programmes.
3. Assessment tasks are demonstrably aligned with course-level learning outcomes, and programme and University-level Graduate Profiles.
4. Assessment is reliable and valid, and is carried out in a manner that is inclusive and equitable
5. Assessment practices are consistent and transparent, and assessment details are made available to students in a timely manner.
6. Feedback is timely and provides meaningful guidance to support independent learning
7. Assessment design and practices support academic integrity.
8. Professional development opportunities and guidance related to the design, implementation and moderation of assessment are available to staff.
9. Assessment is manageable and quality assured.

Breach of academic integrity means dishonest or inappropriate practices occurring in the preparation and submission of coursework, tests, postgraduate research, or in the context of examinations.

Calculator means an electronic device capable of processing, storing or retrieving information, which has the primary purpose of mathematical calculation. It must be hand-held, self-powered and noiseless. It must not have an audible alarm or facilities for transmitting or receiving information.

Concurrently taught is where students who are enrolled for courses at different levels within qualifications attend some or all of the same classes. This is different from the situation where students enrol in a course at a higher level than might be expected and attend classes with more advanced students.

Coursework means assessed components (such as assignments) within a unit of study and does not include tests conducted under examination conditions. In the case of practice disciplines, assessment components may involve ongoing assessment of competence or performance.

Criterion-referenced means that judgements about student performance are based on pre-determined standards and criteria and linked to specified course learning objectives.

Examinations (for undergraduate and postgraduate taught courses) means the formal testing of students under standardised conditions for a set period.

Examination conditions means the examination will occur at a specified time and place, will be invigilated, and will be sat under conditions specified by the Examiner; or, for students with a permanent or temporary impairment, under special conditions as approved through the Special Conditions for Written Tests and Examinations Policy.

Feedback/feed-forward means the provision of information in such a manner that students are able to improve their work, knowledge, or competence in later assessments.

GPA or Grade Point Average means an average calculated using a scale to give each grade received a numerical value. 'Withdrawals', 'did not sit' and 'did not complete' results are counted as zero.

Invigilated means a supervised examination or test. See 'Examination Conditions'.

Moderation means a process intended to assure that an assessment outcome is fair and reliable and that assessment criteria have been applied consistently.

Plussage as defined by this policy is a method of calculating marks a student has gained in a taught course by counting either: an examination or test mark, or a combination of exam, test and coursework marks; whichever is to the student's advantage. Additional requirements for eligibility for plussage may apply, including for example: a minimum result required in the examination; a minimum standard for completion of coursework; and/or attendance at laboratories or tutorials.

Note - an assessment arrangement where an agreed subset of coursework marks is counted towards the final grade (e.g. best eight of ten quiz results) is not considered plussage.

Appendix 1 – Book designation of examinations

Note: the following rules apply to hand-written examinations held on campus. Other conditions may apply to examinations sat online with remote invigilation or computer-based examinations.

Students must be formally notified of the book designation of their examination as early as possible in the semester.

If an examination is approved as Restricted, Supplied or Open Book these details must be supplied to Assessment Services for inclusion in the Examination Instructions available online to every student before each examination period. If the Examiner is unable to provide details of materials by these dates it will then be their responsibility to inform students and Assessment Services in writing, and in good time, of the material which they make take into the examination room.

Open book

Where an examination is designated Open Book (OB), candidates may take into the examination room written or printed material such as books, dictionaries, or Acts, well as an electronic calculator provided it meets the conditions as defined in these procedures. There will be no check on such items but other electronic devices (including laptops, hand-held computers or smartwatches) are not allowed. No prepared material taken into the examination room may be attached to the examination script and submitted for marking as part of that examination.

Supplied book

Candidates will be supplied with material specified by the Examiner.

- ~~Restricted Book examinations may be designated RB, HB or UB. To the examination room material specified by the Examiner. Such material may be written or an/or marked in a relevant or contextual manner, but no prepared material may be attached to the examination script and submitted for marking as part of that examination.~~
- HB examinations are Restricted Book examinations where candidates may bring into the examination room material specified by the Examiner. This material cannot be written upon, but the text may be underlined, highlighted or tabbed
 - UB examinations are Restricted Book examinations where candidates may bring into the examination room material specified the Examiner. This material cannot not be written upon or marked in any way.

Where restricted written material is permitted in the examination room, Examiners are required to be present at the commencement of the examination to check material brought into the examination room. This must be completed during the reading period at the start of the examination and may not be delegated to the examination supervisors. It is the responsibility of the academic unit to ensure that the material satisfies the stated requirements.

The academic unit must arrange for the inspection of books and other written material and ensure this is completed during the reading period at the start of the examination. This responsibility may not be delegated to the examination supervisors and inspection must not extend into the examination period.

If an Examiner discovers unauthorised material, the student must be identified to the room supervisor. The student may continue to sit the examination using the materials, but will be required to hand the material to the room supervisor at the end of the examination. Such cases are dealt with under the Examination Regulations.

Appendix 2 – Calculator designation of examinations

Note: the following rules apply to hand-written examinations held on campus. Other conditions may apply to examinations sat online with remote invigilation or computer-based examinations.

The use of calculators in examinations must be approved by the Course Director.

Calculators must not be shared or used in a manner that interferes with or distracts another candidate.

Students must be formally notified as early as possible in the semester as to whether calculators will be allowed during an examination and the permitted and expected features.

Designations are:

- CP – Calculators are permitted. Candidates are permitted to use any non-programmable calculator which satisfies the general conditions
- DC – Departmental Calculators. Candidates will be supplied with calculators by the academic unit
- RC – Restricted non-alphanumeric non-programmable calculators are permitted. Candidates are permitted to use any calculator which satisfies the general definition and conditions, and which does not provide the alphabet
- SC – Specified calculators are permitted. Academic units may specify other necessary or desirable features as appropriate to the subject

Where calculators are permitted in the examination room, Examiners are required to be present at the commencement of the examination to inspect calculators. This must be completed during the reading period at the start of the examination period, and may not be delegated to examination supervisors.

Appendix 3 – Assessment tasks, by role

i. Academic Head, Head of School, Department, Disciplinary Area or Other Academic Unit

Responsible for:

- Ensuring the quality of examinations and other assessment across all courses in the academic unit
- Ensuring that non-examined assessments and examination papers are appropriate for the level of study and the content of the examination papers is appropriate for the course being examined and the time required to complete
- Ensuring staff are mentored in their career development, including in the development of course assessment (may be delegated to other staff)
- Ensuring that hard-copy and digital student coursework is managed and returned in a way that safeguards student privacy
- Ensuring the quality of the grades that are submitted and that anomalous issues are dealt with prior to the submission of grades (may be delegated to other staff)
