Welcome

Welcome to the 2021 Scholarships and awards for students with disabilities booklet. We have organised the scholarships in disability-specific order. We also have included disability scholarships and awards for school leavers.

In addition to disability-specific scholarships we have added some general scholarships and awards.

We encourage you to find out more about these and any other scholarships and awards you may be eligible for. Good luck with your future applications.

How to apply for a University scholarship

This page describes how to apply for a scholarship at the University of Auckland.

Applying for a scholarship

Selection criteria: you should carefully read the regulations of the scholarship you are applying for to check for your eligibility and what is required of you.

Application forms: each scholarship's application process is different. You'll find the application form on the page of the scholarship you are applying for. You must always source the application form directly from the Scholarships website. Find a scholarship.

Make sure you complete and submit an online application form to the Scholarships Office by the scholarship due date.

Written statement: most application forms include a one-page written statement. You should only include information relevant to the application, for example details of proposed future study and career, any relevant work experience (interests and/or community) and achievements.

Academic record: if you have already completed some tertiary study at the University of Auckland, you don't need to provide an academic transcript with your application. However, if you have academic records from any other university in New Zealand or overseas, then you must include transcripts showing all grades with your application.

International students: you are considered an international student if you are not a citizen or permanent resident of New Zealand or Australia. For important information about admission, enrolment and scholarships, you can visit the International Office.

How Scholarships are awarded

University of Auckland scholarship applications are submitted to a selection committee. The selection committee normally consists of:

- A senior academic in the appropriate faculty, such as the Dean or a Head of School or Department.
- An academic staff member from the disciplinary area in which the scholarship is awarded.
- A representative of the donor

The selection committee makes its recommendation to the University of Auckland Council, which awards the scholarship.

Scholarships awarded by Universities New Zealand go through a pre-selection process at the University of Auckland before nominations are made to Universities New Zealand Te Pokai Tara. Applications for these scholarships should be made directly through Universities New Zealand.

Prizes

You don't usually need to apply for prizes. They are awarded on the recommendation of the head of the appropriate department or school. Visit Find a scholarship to find prizes in your subject area.
