Students say DELNA time is well spent

Research has shown that students who complete DELNA and follow the DELNA advice...

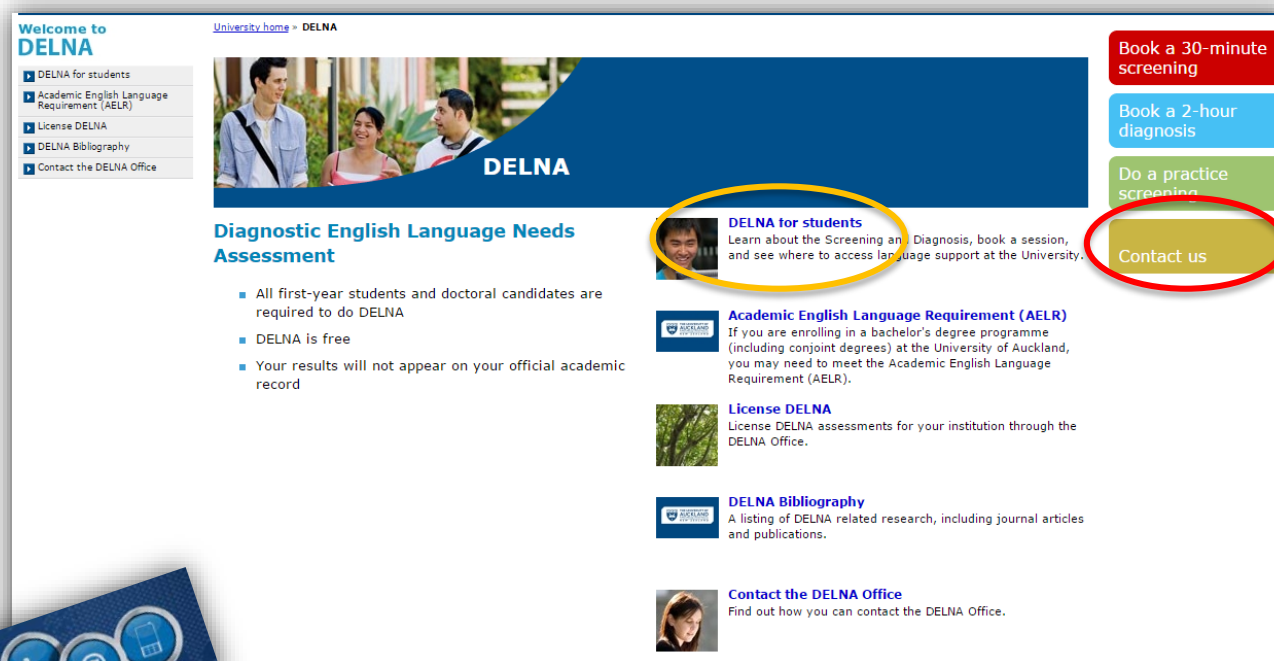

- have a better university experience right from the start
- generally do better in their studies (have higher grades - YES!)
- are more confident that they will succeed

"Before I started, I was really worried about English but I think I will be fine now. I know how to improve."

"I learned how to write academic English essays in high school, but DELNA is great because it is specific for UoA"

Further information

delna.auckland.ac.nz
