Course Information
How many credits should students' study?	The required course load for one semester is 30 credits. One week of full-time studies equals 1.5 credits. The workload is 40 hours per week, including lectures, readings, assignments, seminars, independent studies.
How do students choose courses?	Students should refer to our Course Selection Guide when selecting courses. Please note that for most courses there are special eligibility requirements that are determined by the departments. A Bachelor's degree does not automatically qualify for a course at Master's level. An application to the exchange program does not guarantee any course admittance. Online courses should not be selected and courses that are selected should not have a pace of over 100% in total for each period. The Department of Law does not offer exchange students courses with exception for exchange students that are coming through the CIVIS network (please see further information in the box below)
Additional information for CIVIS students:	Students coming through CIVIS networks will be required to select at least 75% (22,5 credits/hp) of their classes in the subject in which they are nominated. Where possible students will be permitted to select 25% of their classes at another department. CIVIS students can apply for courses at the Department of Law but are not guaranteed admission due to limited seats available. Law students need to have studied at least 120 credits of law to take law courses. 120 credits are equivalent to two years of full-time studies.

Departments with no vacancies	Department of Law, exceptions are made for CIVIS-students.
Swedish Language Courses	Swedish language courses are offered for free by the Department of Swedish Language and Multilingualism to all incoming exchange students. Information about the language courses is available on su.se/studyswedish
How do students find out if they have been accepted for their chosen courses?	The course selection will be sent to the departments for approval. When the departments have assessed the selections, students will get a note of admission from the department directly by early August/December. If the course selection is rejected, students will be asked to apply for other courses.
How do students register and get their learning agreements signed?	Students will register for courses at each department and all necessary information will be sent to the students before to course start.

	Only when the course admission has been completed can the Learning Agreement with the respective department be signed. The International Office will not sign Learning Agreements for students.
Transcripts:	Digital Transcripts of Records with a verification link for partners and employers are available to students once all the grades are set. Information on how to retrieve them will be provided by the end of the semester.

Language Requirements

University Wide Agreements	Incoming exchange students whose first language is not English must provide evidence that their English language ability meets the minimum requirements for admission. We accept IELTS or TOEFL, please bear in mind that the test results should not be more than two years old: - o IELTS: 6.0 overall with at least 5.5 in each of the four components. - o TOEFL: PBT 550 or iBT 79. Please note that we do not accept TOEFL iBT MyBest. Students who want to take classes taught in Swedish might need to hand in a language certificate. This will be decided by the respective department.
Nordlys & CIVIS students:	Students coming through the Nordlys and CIVIS networks do not need to take any other English Language test unless specifically required by the department.
North2north students:	Students coming through the north2north network from Nordic countries do not need to submit an English Language certificate. This also regards students from North America.

Accommodation and Practical Information

How do students apply for accommodation?	All admitted exchange students will receive information via email on how to apply for accommodation through the Housing Office. Read more on su.se/studenthousing For further questions, please contact : housingoffice@su.se
How do students apply for a visa?	Students with citizenship in countries outside EU/EEA and Switzerland need to apply for a residence permit for studies in Sweden. This applies even if you currently hold a residence permit for studies in another EU country. You may use the Letter of Acceptance to apply for a residence permit for studies through the Swedish Migration Agency. Note that the assessment times at the Migrations Agency are rather lengthy and that you need to apply for a residence permit for studies as soon as possible. In addition make an appointment to show your passport at an embassy as soon as it is possible after your residence permit application.
