

LLM PROGRAM

MAURER
SCHOOL OF LAW

More than 100 years of global excellence

The Master of Laws (LLM) program at the Indiana University Maurer School of Law is one of the oldest and most respected of its kind in the nation. An LLM degree from the Law School is your key to success in a rapidly changing world. Our tradition combines with the expertise and global prestige of our faculty to bring you a first-rate educational experience—for thousands of dollars less than at other universities.

WHY CHOOSE INDIANA FOR YOUR LLM?

FLEXIBILITY

In addition to earning a general LLM degree, you can choose from six specializations that suit your interests and career goals. Those include Business and Commercial Law, Financial Regulation and Capital Markets, Information Privacy and Cybersecurity Law, Intellectual Property Law, International and Comparative Law and Globalization, and an LLM in American Law. Your academic advisor will help you select courses that are right for you or help you develop your own specialization.

UNPARALLELED SUPPORT

Indiana Law graduate students benefit from the support of a fully staffed Office of Graduate Legal Studies and International Programs. This office is here to assist you with academic advising, assistance in finding internships, and help with visa issues and integration into American culture. Students receive significant personal attention from members of the staff.

GAIN REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE

You'll have the opportunity to participate in a number of clinics, projects, and other international student groups, including the International Students Association, Pro Bono Immigration Project, the International Law Society, and the Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies.
